Began Strike August 12.

MacSwiney's hunger strike was begun on Aug. 12, when with ten of his associates, he was arrested by solders in Cork while attending a session of a Sinn Fein court. After session of a Sinn Fein court. After trial by a court-martial under the regulations of the defense of the realm act he was found guilty of sedition and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, which he was serving in Brixton prison in London.

MacSwiney, then an alderman of Cork, was elected lord mayor of the city at a special session of the Cork.

city at a special session of the Cork corporation on March 30, of this year. He was a well-known Sinn Fein leader and, prior to his election, had been deported and imprisoned several times, one of the latest notable instances of his confinement having been in 1916, in connection with the Irish Easter revolt.

MacSwiney will be the fourth to be buried in this plot, the others being MacCurtain. Sheamus McGusrke, who was taken out of bed in his Galway home and shot, and Jeremiah McNesty, who participated in the Easter rising in Dublin in 1916.

These arrangements are contingent upon the possibility of governmental interference, which, however, is re-garded as unlikely. The progress of the funeral party from Dublin to Cork will be marked by a series of services at all the populous centers on route. Final obsequies will be held in Cork cathedral and interment will be made in St. Fin Barr's ceme-tery in Cork. The krave in which MacSwiney will be buried is known as "republican plot," which has been reserved for Irish nationalist soldiers who accompanied Mrs. MacSwiney when she visited Brixton prison this morning, said Lord Mayor Mac-Swiney's telegram of Oct. 18 to the Cork hunger strikers with reference to death of the hunger striker, Michael Fitzgerald, in Cork jull, in which he referred to Fitzgerald as having

The day following his trial, Lord Mayor MacSwiney was deported to England aboard a destroyer under a heavy military escort and was lodged in Brixton jail. The government announced on Aug. 19, that he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

MacSwiney's hunger strike brought numerous solicitations and protests to the British authorities, many of the appeals being from sympathyzers.

the appeals being from sympathizers in the United States, even a threat from the Sinn Fein in Ireland, that, in the event of his death, a general strike and serious disturbances would prevail throughout the island. prevail throughout the island. An appeal was taken directly to the king but this also proved unavailing.

During his imprisonment the lord mayor received numerous messages of encouragement and also petitions to abandon his strike. He replied to to abandon his strike. He replied to the latter that if he gaye up his fight he would "give away trish liberty" and that he would "rather die than do that,"

One of the chief reasons put forward by MacSwiney's advocates, although advocated from anti-Sinn Fein quarters; was that the offenses of which MacSwiney was convolved were a little bearish, affording occasion for some selling after the initial bulge. The human aspect of the lord mayor's hunger strike was the one that chiefly interested British people and compelled the sympathy of even his hardest political enemies. Mrs. MacSwiney and his brothers and sisters were treated everywhere with respect and on their side had nothing but good to say of the jailers and police with whom they had to deal.
